

UNIONS UNDER ATTACK

Global Solidarity Action to Support the General Strike in South Korea

On 30 November the Korean Confederation of Trade Unions (KCTU) will hold a general strike, demanding the resignation of President Park Geun Hye and an end to vicious attacks against trade unions and labour rights. South Korean trade unions have been fighting against labour law reforms that undermine due process, cut and make work more insecure. The Government responded by arresting hundreds of trade union members and raiding of union offices.

Support the General Strike by joining an action outside the South Korean Permanent Mission to the UN (Avenue de l'Ariana 1, 1211 Geneva 20) on 30 November.

The Global Unions supports the KCTU's key demands:

1. Abolishment of regressive labour law reforms
2. Immediate release of all imprisoned trade unionists
3. Fundamental labour rights for all workers including irregular, temporary, contract, bogus self-employed, and migrant workers.
4. Immediate and unconditional resignation of Park Geun Hye
